Another Notable Achievement. The Feast Nosepiece.

E are constantly striving for improvement.

Anything that adds to the comfort, convenience or benefit of wearers of glasses comes within our scope of study. We've brought out the Feast field lens-the most notable achievement of its kind in late years. Now we've brought /out the FEAST NOSEPIECES for eyeglasses and have developed a new perfection in this line. They fit—because we shape them to the exact lines of the nose. They stay on and hold the glasses in correct position because they allow of such fitting. They're made of pure gold and sterling silver -and have no tortoise shell or cork about them to attract dust, dirt or perspiration and contribute to bungersomeness. They don't irritate the nose and leave less of a mark than any other nosepiece. They cost no more than the ordinary nosepleces and can be fitted to old glasses as well

Orphan Boys Praise Their Benefactress -Interesting Personal

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained a company at dinner last night, when those present were Miss Roosevelt, Miss Field, Miss Nott, Miss M. Oliver, Miss Elizabeth Parker, Miss Lofell, Miss Elfrida Roosevelt, Miss Julia Fish, Miss C. Roosevelt, Miss Newbold, Miss Wolcott, Miss Root. Miss Draper, Miss Margaret Hitchcock. Maj. McCawley, Mr. Lodge, Mr. Lloyd. Mr. Hichborne, Lieut. Fortescue, Mr. Johnston, Mr. Frederick Hale, Mr. Eugene Hale, jr., Mr. Cushing, Mr. Ames, Mr. Martin, Viscount Charles de Chambrun, Mr. Bowditch and Mr. Goelet,

Secretary Loeb announced today at the White House that, out of consideration for the comfort of the guests, the list for the reception to be held on the evening of January 7 was closed, and no additions could

The orphan boys at St. Joseph's Asylum, on H street, under the charge of the Sisters of the Holy Cross, gave an entertainment Wednesday afternoon in their gymnasium in honor of Mrs. James F. Barbour. The boys were heard in songs, duets and cho-ruses, and one lad recited a poem full of good wishes for their never-failing benefactress. Mrs. Barbour's few words of ac-knowledgment were charmingly sincere, and were as much applauded by the boys as were the surprises she had in store for them. She distributed all the toys a boy's heart could crave, each receiving two or three articles, more candy than they could eat for days, besides a seated luncheon, where ice cream, cake and fruit were generously served. This Christmas party, however, happens to be only one of the many generous acts of Mrs. Barbour for the orphan boys during the year. Rev. Dr. Staf-ford. Mr. James F. Barbour, who is one of the asylum trustees; Mr. Fred Barbour, Miss Marguerite Barbour, Mrs. Daniel Webster Dougherty of Philadelphia, Mrs. John I. Webb, the Misses Mercer and others were guests of the occasion.

Miss Edes, who always has her friends about her New Year's, was the hostess of another large gathering yesterday, which formed a merry continuation of the official gayeties of the day. Mrs. Lothrop Bradley and Miss Patten presided at the tea table and Mrs. Cromwell served the eggnog. The other assistants were the Countess Marguerite Cassini, Mme. Gana, the Misses McKenna, the Misses Latrobe of Baltimore, Miss Jean Loring, Miss Ashton, Miss Rose Wallach, Miss Sheridan, the Misses Grace and Elizabeth Edes, Miss Morgan Hill, Miss Ward, Miss Glover, Miss Morgan of New York, Miss Clagett, Miss Hagner and Mrs. Richard Hooker.

The home of Miss Addie Speiden was turned over to her young friends Thursday night, where music and refreshments were Mrs. 6 enjoyed. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Speiden, the Misses Addie Speiden, Mary Speiden, Emma Speiden, Mamie Auguste, Maude Trewolla, Ninoth McCracken, Bernice Hinwood, Bertha Perkins, Mary Hutchinson and Daisy Baker, and the Irving King, Riley Perkins, Walter Hardes-ter, James Windsor, Halvor Adams and Wednesday evening, December 30, there was a pleasant social gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Jackson, Holly avenue, Takoma Park, given in honor of their niece, Miss Annie Ortlipp, and her friends, Miss Annie Pond and Miss Ethel Thorpe of Richmond. During the evening vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. C. J. Ortlipp, Mrs. H. Long and Miss Annie Pond; plano solos by Miss Lawyer and Miss Annie Ortlipp; Messrs Al. and Ed. Eshelman gave some violin selections, after which refreshments were served, and the which retreshments were served, and the evening closed by the old-fashioned "Vir-ginia reel." Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Ortlipp, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Eshelman, Mr. and Mrs. Al. Eshelman, Mr. and Mrs. Will Kroll, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Long, the Misses MacAlister, Lawyer, Annie Pond, Annie Ortlipp, Ethel Thorpe, Messrs. Alex. Mac-Alister, W. A. MAMIE E. LUSBY.

ORRIS. In sad but loving remembrance of LORAINE H. NORRIS, who died one year ago today, January 2, 1993. We watched thy dear form fading, but little did we know
That on the sad tomorrow thy soul from earth would go.

You are not forgotten, dear Loraine, or will you be,
As long as life and memory last we will remember thee. In loving remembrance of my dear CHARLES P. PHILLIPS, who departed this life one year ago today, January 2, 1908. Dearest loved one, how I miss you-miss you more than words can tell;

Every hour and day that passes brings me nearer you to dwell.

Friends may think I'll soon forget you and my wounded heart be healed,

But they little know the sorrow that's within my breast concealed.

Py US DEVOTED WIFE NELLIE.

BY HIS DEVOTED WIFE, NELLIE, Brockland, D. C. SAUNDERS. In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband and our father, JAMES E. SAUNDERS, who died five years ago yesterday. January 1, 1899. BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN, WARD. In sad remembrance of my dear and devoted wife, BERTHA MALINA WARD, who departed this life one year ago today, January 2, 1903.

It's just one year ago today, and I remem! Well,
To a better land so far away my darling wife did go.
Now God has called her from this sinful world, above with angels to rejoice,
And they will welcome her with love at the sounding of her sweet voice.
